

Blue Courage Next Steps

Now that you are Trainers for Blue Courage, this is how you take it to your people:

Option 1: Closed course

1. Go back to your agency and offer the training to your agency staff in coordination with your training supervisor.
2. Contact Rex Caldwell (rcaldwell@cjtc.state.wa.us) at CJTC, we'd love to help. We may be able to help by team teaching with you or provide any coaching from the Blue Courage Master Cadre staff with CJTC.
3. Order your materials. You can get them from Bluecourage.com
4. Pick your dates and run your registration.
5. Study up and facilitate the modules following the Facilitator's Guide.
6. Please let us know how many people attended your closed course with your agency (we'd like to keep a good track for reporting purposes).

Option 2: Open Course

1. Contact Program Manager Rex Caldwell (rcaldwell@cjtc.state.wa.us) about your interest in hosting a class.
2. Once you have the details worked out with Leanna, start studying to teach!
3. Rex will assign at least one other instructor to teach the 2-day course with you.
4. Keep studying and let Rex do all the logistical work of advertisements (in cooperation with your agency), registration and all the rest, as well as ordering all the materials.
5. All you have to do is study, study, study and show up to teach the course.

If you are interested in working in partnership with CJTC to become a regional Blue Courage instructor, please contact Rex Caldwell with your contact information.
